

Privacy Policy

PALACE CO., LTD. (hereafter referred to as “the Group”), recognize that protecting the privacy of our customers and their personal information (hereafter referred to collectively as “personal information”) is the basis of the Group’s business and one of the Group’s social responsibilities. In order to responsibly protect our customer’s personal information, the Group has established the personal information protection policy set forth below.

1) Purposes for which personal information is used

The Group uses a customer’s personal information only for the purposes and within the scope made clear to the customer at the time the information is obtained. The Group makes absolutely no use of personal information for other purposes or beyond the indicated scope.

2) Limits to provision of information to third parties and joint use of information

Except in the following cases, the Group does not provide or disclose customer personal information to third parties or engage in the joint use of this information without the consent of the customer.

- Cases in which cannot distinct individual customer (such as announcement of the lottery)
- Cases in which such disclosure or use is required by law
- Cases in which allowed by customer to provide personal information

3) Secure management of personal information

The Group makes every effort to protect customer personal information with preventive and security measure to protect against unauthorized access, loss, destruction, tampering, and leaks.

4) Registration personal information’s inquiry, correction, and erasure

Customer needs to provide identification card if they wish to inquire, correction, and erasure of their personal information in order to avoid the spoofing
Also, if customer wishes to distribution cancelled of e-mail magazine, the Group respond to that.